

When you give to Bringing Children Hope, you are supporting families like Angela's.

This single mother felt all alone. With the wrong influences all around her, Angela needed hope spoken into her life. Angela reached out to BCH because she knew she needed help. She knew she needed a detox program and a safe place for her son to be cared for while she was in in-patient care.

While Angela stayed committed to her recovery, our US Ministry team supported her through one of our loving Care Families who provided essential care for her son in their home, right within their own family living. Our Care Family took her son to church, prayed with him, and showed the love of Christ to him daily.

After Angela completed the hard work in detox, we connected her to a women's home to continue her recovery. We were Angela's community as she progressed through her recovery program, step by step. We supported Angela in every way that we are equipped to do so. We organized regular visits with her son, helped with transportation, and provided referrals for other help she needed. Support, prayer and community were the recipe for endurance for Angela while she faced the physical healing and built stability she desperately needed.

There is no stopping Angela—while full-time caring for her son in her own apartment, she is now enrolled in college, studying Human Services. Angela wants to give back to other women facing her former situation. Angela desires to help other moms, however she can, take steps to turn their lives around.

We are still cheering Angela on and stay in regular contact with her. In fact, Angela has asked our US Ministry team to professionally mentor her in her educational and professional goals.

Please remember Angela, her son, and our loving, dedicated Care Families in prayer.

With a Grateful Heart,

Galatians 6:9

And let us not grow weary of doing good, for in due season we will reap, if we do not give up.
